Dear Dennis

Re Keg Handling Solutions

I would like to congratulate you and your company for focusing on the safety issues associated with keg handling in the hospitality industry.

Primarily your keg trolleys, in particular your double stacker.

Whilst we do not condone double stacking at all in the industry, as we see the number of brands proliferating and the keg rooms getting smaller, venues are tempted to double stack to cope with peak demands.

You have identified this as a need and developed a very user friendly solution that takes the ergonomic risks out of double stacking and also has a very good keg placement plate to ensure stability of the top keg.

Lion Nathan Australia are informing venues of your solution if we see them double stacking because we need to face reality and accept the practice exists, and need drive safety into this practice and reduce the risks associated.

Your solution we consider as best practice.

Yours faithfully
